InnoTrans 2020: 80 per cent of floor space already booked

The demand for more floor space at InnoTrans, especially for international exhibitors, remains high. Some 18 months before the next international trade fair for transport technology is due to take place approximately 80 per cent of the display area has already been booked. "In 2020 InnoTrans will once again be the hub for every aspect of mobility, in the form of buses, railways and comprehensive transport solutions", says InnoTrans director Kerstin Schulz. "Many exhibitors are already preparing for the coming InnoTrans and have taken advantage of the offers available to those who register early."
